To the Class of 2012 Advisors...

Front: M. Gambardella, T. Moran, S. Oakes. Back: Mrs. Schreiber, Mr. Peters.

Before we say goodbye, the Class of 2012 would like take the time to thank our advisors, Mrs. Schreiber and Mr. Peters. We got off to a rough start by ourselves freshmen year, but they courageously volunteered to take us on and helped to turn things around. Without their guidance, we never would have been able to organize the many fundraisers, pancake breakfast, or hypnotist show. All of these events raised the funds necessary for the parts of senior year that we will never forget. Our Senior-to-Senior Breakfast, the Senior Picnic, and Prom will be the moments we think back on as we move forward with our lives.

Message from the Principal

"Go confidently in the direction of your dreams.
Live the life you have imagined."

– Henry David Thoreau

Dear Class of 2012,

Congratulations! You have earned the respect and pride of your fellow students, educators, and citizens. It has been a pleasure to watch you grow your talents and share them with the North Haven community. In the future, as you develop your own families, careers, and interests, leaf through this yearbook on occasion. Remember the friends you made, the good times you experienced, and the educators who shaped your learning. Also, remember that no matter where your talents lead, you will always be the NHHS Class of 2012. We look forward to all that you will do.

Sincerely,

Russell J. Dallai

J. Jones scores a touchdown.

"The 2011 football team entered the season with the expectation of competing for a state championship. After an exciting last minute victory against Hillhouse in week 1 the Team knocked off 8 of its next 9 opponents, finishing the regular season with a record of 9-1, SCC Division II champions, and qualifying for the state playoffs for the second straight year. The season ended in the quarter finals for the Indians after a hard fought defeat to a Masuk team that was currently ranked second in CT. The team was lead by a very strong and dedicated senior class that was captained by Joe Schwab, Andrew Savenelli, Jacob Mikos, and Mark Zurlis. Although the team fell short of the ultimate goal, they prepared and played like champions every day. They forged bonds with one another that will endure a life time. They discovered they had the courage to not only set their goals high, but to work endlessly at trying to attain them. And because of that they are better men."

We managed to qualify for the State Tournament and also became the first team in Oronoque Division history to win back-to-back titles. Let's go for a third in a row in 2012! A special thanks goes out to the senior class who continued to "lead by example," on and off the field, and never gave up on the team. You inspired the rest of the team to continue to "believe" and it worked! Thank you for being ideal role models, true leaders, and loyal teammates. After last year's season, the Boy's Basketball team came back prepared to show off their experience and improvements, and with wins in their first five consecutive games, they seemed to be on the fast track to the postseason tournaments. Captains D. Schioppo, J. Mikos, and S. Oakes led the team with help from senior W. McDonald, who broke both the school's record and his own, scoring 43 points in one game and 1,000 in his career. Their performance took them to the Class L state tournament, where they won in the first round against Bristol Eastern before ending the season against Farmington.

On March 1st, 2nd, and 3rd, the theater and music departments revealed the product of their combined labors in the annual musical. The play Hairspray is a social commentary on the injustices of American society in the 1960s. The show takes place in 1962 in Baltimore, Maryland, where teenager Tracy Turnblad's dream is to dance on The Corny Collins Show. As an overnight celebrity, she launches a campaign to racially integrate the show. This high school production would not have been a success without all of the people who contributed their talents and time.

Letter from the Editor

Dear Classmates and Faculty,

Creating a yearbook is never as simple as it is expected to be, something I have learned throughout my high school career, yet I was still unprepared for the amount of time and effort that went into this year's book. From the beginning of our autumn ad campaign to the final meeting, pages have been designed, color schemes chosen, photographs captioned, and much more. It was no easy feat, and without the contributions of a few select people the 2012 yearbook would not be in your hands as you read this.

Firstly, I would like to thank Jostens and Storytellers Photography for their extensive assistance and contributions. Our Jostens representative, Mr. Sasena, has helped us throughout the year with the book's design and our ad campaign, offering suggestions and even teaching staff members how to use the design program. Alongside him are Mr. Genest, Mrs. Genest, and Mr. Manente, our photographers from Storytellers who capture all of the school's events, from football games to the winter musical. They have even taken time on multiple occasions in order to help us with our in-school candid days. Without them, half of the yearbook would be blank.

Secondly, I need to thank the yearbook staff's editors and dedicated staff members. Senior section editors Emma Hamling, Lisa Natale, Taylor Rosello, and Brittany Correia have displayed continuous support during their years on the Sachem Yearbook staff. They, along with our underclassmen section editors, Kaitlyn Puglisi, Richelle Villabona, and Brynne Macdonnell have spent hours after school at meetings and at home to ensure that not only is the yearbook complete, but that it is also an interesting and accurate portrayal of the school year. Our staff has slowly dwindled since the fall, and it is the people who have stayed for meetings to identify pictures or walked through the halls with cameras who deserve recognition for their commitment.

Lastly, I cannot end this letter without giving my undying gratitude to the Sachem Yearbook advisors, Ms. Karcz, Mrs. Herget, and Mr. Bonito. The three of them are what make this book possible, helping us to turn plans and designs into something tangible. They keep us organized and sane, taking time to sift through photographs and identify each person in the book. Mr. Bonito has managed all of our ads and sales, Mrs. Herget has worked with seniors to ensure that their profiles were complete and submitted, and Ms. Karcz has worked with us on design, giving suggestions and helping to create layouts. The amount of time that they take to help us make this book a success is incredible, and for that I cannot thank them enough.

As a senior, this is my final year as a part of the North Haven yearbook staff, and this year's book is abundant with memories. For me, they include everything from working while listening to music in Ms. Karcz room to frantic conversations before deadlines. I hope that you are able to find your own memories somewhere in these pages, and that when you look back years from now you are able to spot them just as easily.

Michael "Mike" Marreiros

I can't believe how fast these four years of high school have gone by. Seems like just yesterday Kevin put you on skates for the first time. I'm going to miss all the time we spent together for hockey. Now you're off to college and starting a new adventure on your own. You've grown into a smart, confident, handsome young man with a great personality; don't ever change who you are. We know you'll be successful in whatever you decide to do. Stay grounded and aim high-you will achieve anything you put your mind to.

You know you can always count on us. We love you very much. XO
Mom, Nicole, Kevin, Gram, and Maya too

Joseph:

It seems like yesterday you were born, spoke your first words and took your first steps

It seems like yesterday you walked into St. Rita's Pre-School.

It seems like yesterday you learned to ride your bike at the Cape Cod Canal.

It seems like yesterday you entered high school.

All those yesterdays brought you to today. Today, you are a young man that we are very proud of. Your kindness, sincerity and loyalty to your family and friends are to be admired. Your dedication to what you believe in is to be commended, and your determination to succeed is remarkable. Remember your yesterdays, enjoy today and embrace the future. We wish you a happy, healthy and prosperous journey through life. May you always be surrounded by love, family and good friends. God Bless you.

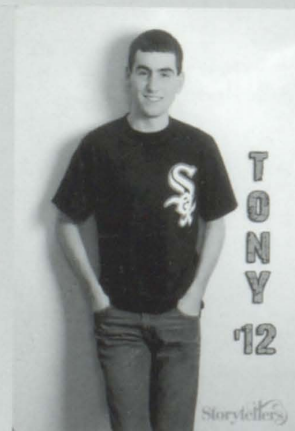

With great pride and lots of love,
Mom and Dad

Congratulations!

You have filled our lives with laughter, happiness and love. We wish you the same joy that you have given us. Look at all you have accomplished. We are so proud of you!

Keep smiling! Love always,
Mom, Dad, and Rudy

Just remember,
Wherever life takes you, whatever dreams you follow...you will always be my son,
and I will always love you.
Congratulations!

Joseph:

You are the sparkle in my eyes and the kick in my step. I am so proud of you, and I know your Gram would be too. She is your angel and will always watch over you. From the day you were born, we wished nothing but the best for you. Today,

I wish you a lifetime of love, happiness and success. Enjoy life to its fullest!

*Love,
Poppy*

My Dear Ryan,

It's hard to believe that you're graduating High School. You've grown into such an amazing young man. Not only are you tall, dark and handsome, you're also an intelligent, deep-thinker who continues to surprise me with your insights and rationale. When you shared your thoughts as a small boy, your reasoning was beyond your years; it is still the same today. You have a good, kind heart, and I am exceedingly proud of you. I know your future holds wonderful things, and I'm excited to see how your life will unfold. You've brought my life joy in ways you will never know. You will always be the "sunshine" of my life.

With all my heart,
Mom xo

Sean,

Where has the time gone? We feel like we just sent you off to preschool and now you're graduating. We watched you grow from a precious little boy into a handsome young man. Never lose your sense of humor. May all your dreams come true.

With great pride and joy, we have watched you grow from a curly-headed blonde baby boy, into a responsible, hard working young man. It has been a privilege and a blessing to be part of your journey. on all that you have accomplished! Continue to work hard, be confident in your abilities, and follow your passions and you will succeed at whatever path you choose. Coach Messer once said, "Your future is bright!" He was right!

Love always,
Mom, Dad and Regina

Joseph:

I am so proud of the good person you have become. You have grown to be a wonderful young man. I knew when you were two years old and led Papa to your toy box and started teaching him about dinosaurs that you were destined for success. You always put a smile on his face. He will always smile down on you and watch over you. My wish for you is for a happy, healthy, and successful future. Follow your dreams and keep love in your heart.

Love,
Nan
