Indians Ambush East Haven 20-18

Memorial Field Proves To Be 'Burial Ground'

By BOB BARTON
Center Memorial Field in North Haven, site of North Haven High School's home football games, is supposed to be abandoned by the Indians next season in favor of a newly-seeded gridiron behind the school. But the place will still live rather vividly in the minds of the Indians' Hoosatic League rivals. They'll remember it as the graveyard of potential champions.

Yesterday morning, before a Veterans' Day crowd of approximately 1,000, Tim Cornell's unheralded Indians played the role of spoiler again by taking from a 12th first-quarter deficit for a stirring 20-18 triumph over second-place East Haven that just about removed the Eagles from the title running. And it was on the same soil, almost exactly a month before, that the Indians had knocked Branford from among the undefeated in a 32-30 ambush.

The decisive touchdown in yesterday's game — which dropped East Haven from second to third and left shambles the undisputed leader by a half-game over Branford — came on an 18-yard pass from quarterback Dave Gould to halfback Arthur Bodwell with just five minutes remaining. East Haven gained two more scoring chances after that, but Nite Menchetti recovered a half-point loose from Yellowjacket Jim Salvati on the Tribe 22 with four minutes to go, and on the final play the Eagles' Vin Virgilio was pulled down at the 12 on an unsuccessful attempt to penetrate the Indians' tight side.

Offensive failure in the game was divided between Menchetti, a fighting fullback who gained 80 yards in 13 rushes and placekicked both the extra points, and Gould, who completed six of 15 passes for 180 yards and made two of them his sixth and 39 touchdown passes of the year. His first of the morning was a 26-yard throw on the opening play of the second period, which right end Mike Meloy accepted on the Eastie 45 and carried the rest of the way on a 77-yard play that tally, with Menchetti's conversion, brought the Indians from virtual oblivion and cut the Eastie edge to only 2-1.

Kicker Start East
East Haven started out to make a romp of it, scored twice in the opening session while North Haven was making only 13 yards. But Veterans' made the first TD on a 78-yard jump pass from quarterback back to receiver after getting 5-0 and a fumble recovery on the 10 and for the second after Vets had picked up a bobble at Indian 12 on the preceding play. Veterans' gradually made good placement after the second 'Jaw' (unlabeled) but an offside ruling cost the Eagles five yards and the point; and a pass by Letis from the 7 was bottled down. Veterans' now after the previous TD had been blocked, and in the third stanza, after the Eagles had captured the lead at 12-15, Vets kicked low and wide.

Gould Passes Kick
Gould's scoring piler to Meloy came on the second play after the ensuing kickoff, which Nate Qualls had returned to the Indian 23. Midway through the period the Redskins struck again, going 48 yards in five plays with Menchetti harping over from the two after Gould had pegged to Johnny Roche for 22 to put it there. Menchetti's kick was blocked after a high pass from center but the Tribe went off with a 19-12 margin at the half, after a pause, third TD drive turned at the Eastie 18.

East Haven woke up after intermission and moved the kickoff 68 yards in 13 plays with the longest being a 22-yard strike from Letis to left end Brian Meloy. An interference call gave the Eagles first down on the one and after the Indians heaved for ten plays, Salvati carried over.

The Indians raced back to the Eastie 27, but ran out of down there when Menchetti was collared on fourth down a yard short of the first. Shortly afterwards, however, the Tribe 48 possession again began the winning push from their own 20. Glans of 16 and four yards by Menchetti moved them to the 49, and with a third down there Gould flipped to Roche, who took it in the left flat and raced 23 yards to the Eastie 18. From there Gould, from double-wing formation hit Bodwell with a toss over the middle at the nine, and Bodwell outraced Letis and Vin Virgilio to the right coffin corner for the score.

But it wasn't in the cards for East Haven to win. For the Indians came back and finally won 20-18 on a tremendous passing attack. "Something we had prepared for all week," said Frank.
"We knew they were going to pass. So we worked on it every day."
"However, when the time came to put our lessons into action we fell flat on our faces. That Mike Meloy managed to get behind two of our defenders for their first score, and that's all they needed."
"After that they were up, and we were down. We didn't deserve to win. Neither the game, or a Hoosatic League pennant."
"And that's the first time I've ever said that out at East Haven team," said Frank.

"Hold that line!"

"Who spiked the coconuts?"

"Watch your step, Tom."

Man, that controlled precipitation . . .

"Eb . . . What's up, Doc?"

We chose an appropriate theme for our last big Senior activity, JAMAICAN FAREWELL. The bids, in shiny red and black, were the heralds of an exciting evening. The gym was transformed by the hard work of Barb Davies' decoration committee; a blue ceiling gave the feeling of a Jamaican night, with side murals of exotic Caribbean flowers. The big attraction of the evening, however, was the waterfall and stream with a bridge going over it. The splashing sounds of the water combined with Pat Dorn's band created a nice mood for dancing. After the grand march we moved outdoors to the court-yard for refreshments. Punch served in coconuts, and banana bread made the cool night air seem almost tropical.

Longly after one, dinner (breakfast?) was served at Beechwood Manor, after which we bombed over to Verna Party-giver Franco's for more food. When the sun came up we decided it was time to go home for a few hours' sleep before the picnic. The picnic? — It rained!

Mmmmm . . .

Graduation was approaching and we were finally to "meet" the people who had been cramming knowledge into our heads all these years. It was May 28, the TEACHERS' RECEPTION. "Go ahead, talk to them; you're not in a classroom now," we were told. And we did just that, with time out for eating and dancing, of course. The punch-bowls were emptied in a matter of minutes, and after we had had our fill it wasn't a difficult task to spend the hours in friendly conversation. Having thoroughly enjoyed this informal gab-fest we thought, "If only teachers could be people all the time!"

"To a pair of good sports . . ."

It had been a long time in coming, but finally, on June 6, the SACHEM arrived. We acted out the will and prophecy and received our copies of the book, eagerly looking to see what had been written about us. At the conclusion of the program we sang the Alma Mater, and realized that we would have to work hard to get in shape for Graduation!

"Great! Another first edition!"

The big weekend came soon after. Saturday the 14th was BANQUET and AWARDS' NIGHT. Parents and students crowded into the cafeteria to enjoy an evening together. Turkey and roast beef were on the dinner menu, with fruit cup for an appetizer and fancy ice cream for dessert. After finishing our meal we watched Paul Bassett present our class gift to the school and Sue Burton give presents to the Senior homeroom teachers. Bill Lanouette, as master of ceremonies, closed the banquet by directing us to the auditorium for Awards' Night where scholarships and awards for academic achievement were presented to various Seniors.

Banqueting

"Tobacco is a dirty weed . . . I like it!"

Awards for outstanding achievement were presented to the following people: Art, Thomas Buchan; Business, June Betta; English, Sandra Lade; Homemaking, Karen Jacobson; Industrial Arts, Michael Hart; French, Eileen O'Brien; Mathematics, Allan Greist; Music, Sarah Burton; Physical Education, Nancy Lucas, John Roche; Science, Jon Sauter; Social Studies, Lawrence Lipsher.

"For outstanding achievement . . ."

"It's kind of a rectangularly-shaped triangle."

Trophies for academic honors were awarded to Robert Emerson, Judith Chapman and Katherine Buxton.

"I'm a purple people eater!"

And then came the time when all our grueling hours of practice were to show their effect. It was Sunday afternoon and time for the BAC-CALAUREATE SERVICE. We wondered whether we would step on the right beat or with the right foot and if our hats were on straight. "Remember, three rows in back of the person ahead of you." We marched down the aisle, our tassels swinging in front of our eyes, each of us thinking different thoughts. "What were the words to that song now? . . . left, right, left, right . . . right." The long lines of maroon and white gradually shortened, and we were standing in the first few rows of the auditorium, not knowing whether to stand or sit.

"And it shall be my duty as District Attorney . . ."

The whole congregation joined in to sing America the Beautiful. Following the Invocation was the welcome address by John Roche and the reading of Psalm 67 by Bill Marks. Then our whole class went into action as we sang the choral.

Which eye is private?

No peeking at the words, Linda!

We were thankful for all Mr. Hauser's rehearsals and upon finishing the song sat down in unison (?) to listen to Mike Melody's speech. While Bob Emerson was delivering his address, we couldn't help but laugh to ourselves as Mike struggled to put the tassel back on his hat. After the Alma Mater and the Benediction we adjourned to the courtyard to show off in front of the camera in our caps and gowns.

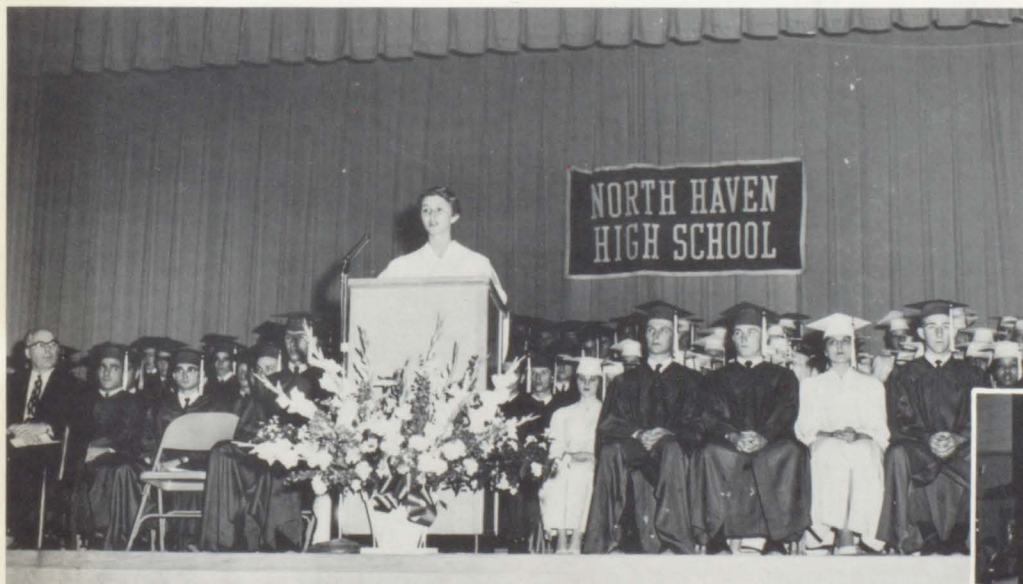

But Monday night was the biggest one of all: GRADUATION. We came to school at 7:30, nervous and excited about what was happening to us. As we put on our caps and gowns, we swore we weren't going to cry and tried to look calm in spite of our somewhat rattled interiors.

"And who said I wouldn't graduate?"

"Everybody line up." It was time, and the sound of Pomp and Circumstance beat in our ears and in our hearts. We felt strange walking toward the stage, stranger still as we mounted the steps and stood before our seats. As Paul Bassett, President of the Class of '58, welcomed the audience, some of us felt better and some a little more nervous. Because the speeches of MaryAlice Chieppo, Bill Lanouette and Anne Harrick were somewhat humorous, the solemn atmosphere was lightened a little. But still the tears were starting even though we vowed they wouldn't.

"We're no angels!"

Then the speeches were over and it was time to receive the treasure for which we had worked twelve years. As Mr. Aquila read our names we walked ("with dignity") across the stage to receive our diplomas and to have our tassels turned. We were Seniors no longer.

Just a wee bit too anxious!

"Ladies, Gentlemen, and Melvin..."

Paul Bassett went to the podium to watch his class file out. It was sad and happy, solemn and joyful as we left the auditorium. Tears and smiles mixed freely as we took off our caps and gowns; it was over.

With quick hellos to our parents and relatives we were off to Judy Heinle's house for our graduation party. The next day was gray and cold but we had our "class" picnic at Meigs Point anyway. As we parted each other's company the common cry was, "Don't forget reunions!"

Anne Harrick and Sarah Burton, co-editors of the 1955 "Sachem," have begun working with various committees to organize plans for meeting the press deadline.

Individual senior pictures and those of underclassmen will be bigger than they have been in the past. The class history will be depicted mainly with a four page spread of pictures, accompanied by copy. More room in the yearbook will be dedicated to a sports section.

Sandra Lade is the literary editor. Peter Gibbons and Kate Buxton are handling the class history. Bill Lanouette is head of the committee writing the class will and prophecy. Sports are being taken care of by Judy Henle and Allan Hadley. Nan-

Indians Trip Branford, 62-57, For First Victory In Series

Branford High, upset victor over powerful East Haven last Friday night, moved into North Haven last night and was ambushed by the Indians for the first time in the schools' brief Housatonic League series, 62-57.

The Indians, sparked by the fast breaking of co-captain Johnny Roche and the rebounding of Al Hadley, tallied nine straight points at the beginning of the second half to erase a Branford lead, then put down a last-minute Hornet rally to secure their fifth victory in ten decisions. The loss was Branford's third against two wins.

The first half was fairly even, with North Haven enjoying a brief lead only to have Branford tie it 12-12 at the quarter and go one up, 21-20, at the half. In the third quarter, however, the Indians built up a 29-21 lead before the visitors knew what hit them, and the Tribe continued to lead going into the last quarter, 48-35. The Hornets, led by center Pete Dzwonkoski, put on a determined rally to pull within a bucket, 57-55, with two minutes left in the game, but Don Shuster increased the North Haven margin to three points with a foul shot. Hadley put in a rebound, and Hank Sargent followed with a lay-up to put the game on ice.

The story of the game is found in the team shooting. North Haven hit for 54.8 per cent of its shots from the floor.

Indians Subdue Seymour High as Dave Gould Shines

North Haven High snapped a 6-6 tie with a pair of touchdowns in the third period and went on to rout Seymour, 25-12, yesterday in a Housatonic League football battle at North Haven's Center Memorial Field.

Fullback Nate Menchetti sparked the winners with two touchdowns, scoring from eight yards out in the opening quarter and circling end for the tie-breaking counter in the third. Quarterback Dave Gould fired to halfback John Roche for the other third-period tally, and connected with Paul Aston on a 24-yard scoring aerial in the fourth. Gould has completed 42 passes in 125 attempts this season for 1,063 yards.

Seymour quarterback Tom Dahn matched Menchetti's initial touchdown in the opening stanza by
