Lady Ōtomo No Sakanoe

The flight of a Saturn IB rocket symbolizes our Senior year at North Haven High School. 1968-69 was a year of great excitement, and of great upward strides in technology.

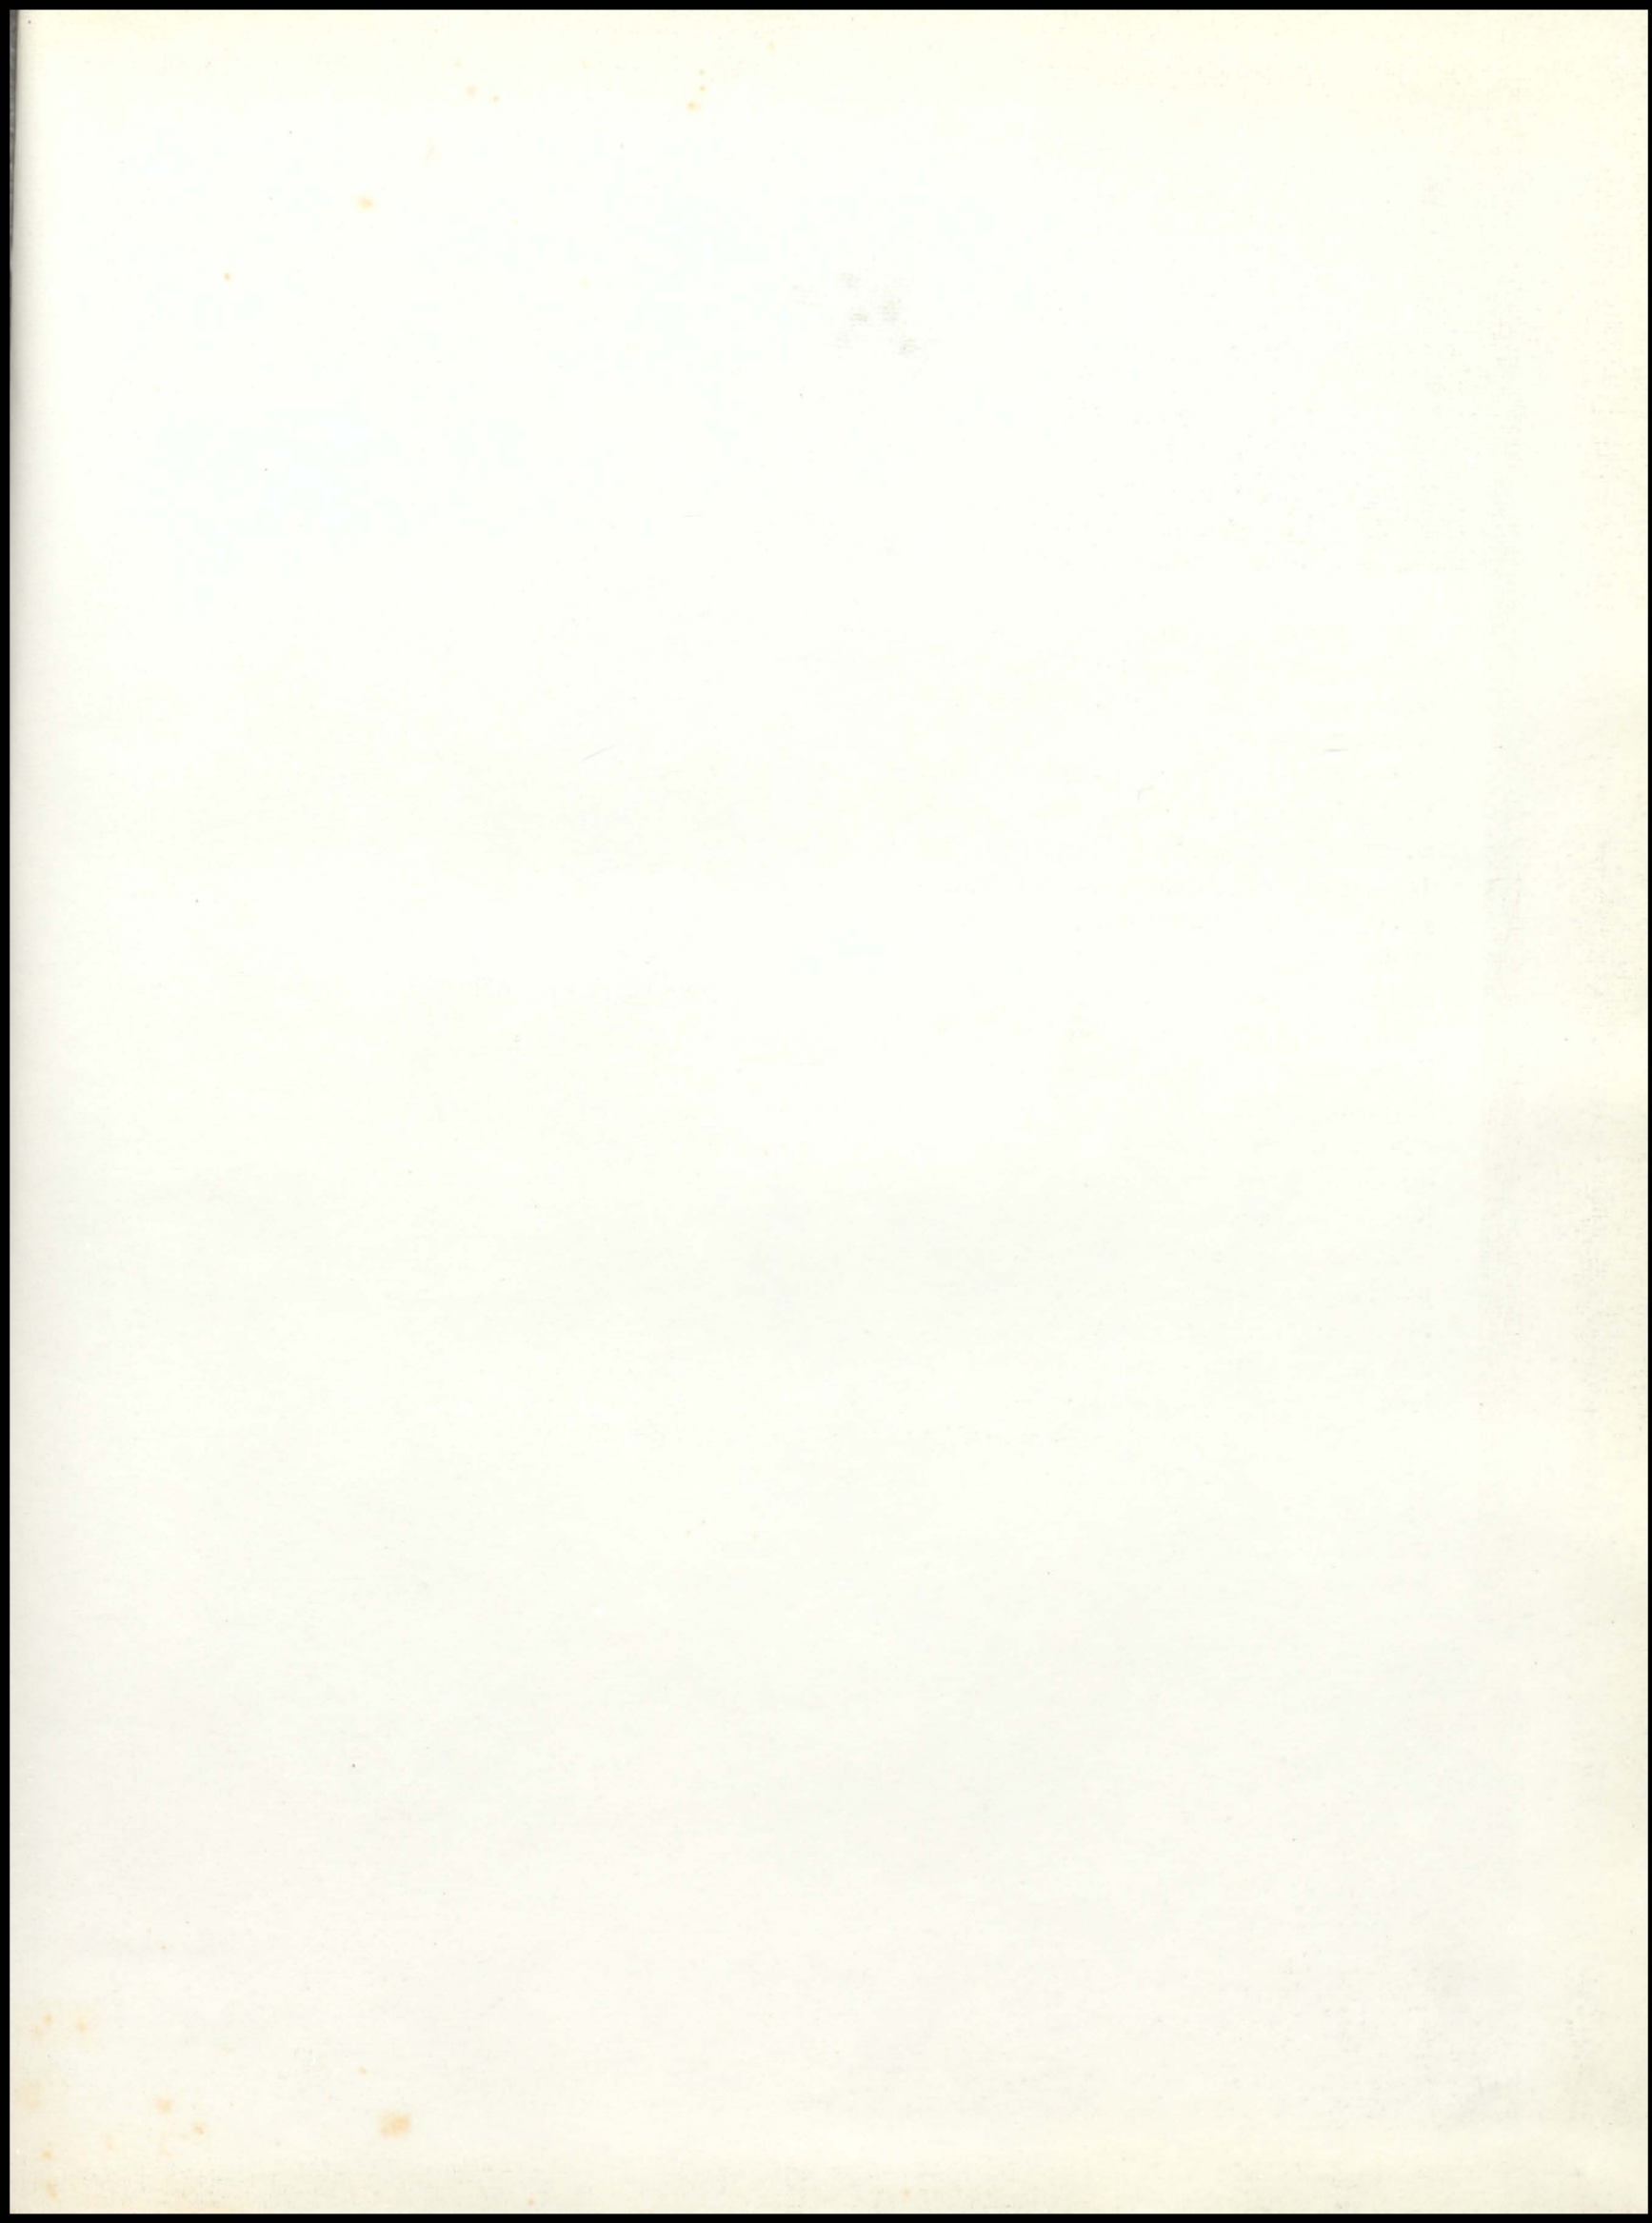

Three men ushered in the Lunar Era in Apollo VIII, while three more men contemplated setting foot on our nearest neighbor in space in early summer. The events, which until a few years before were considered to be science fiction, caught the imagination of the world, and demonstrated the courage and capability of the human spirit.

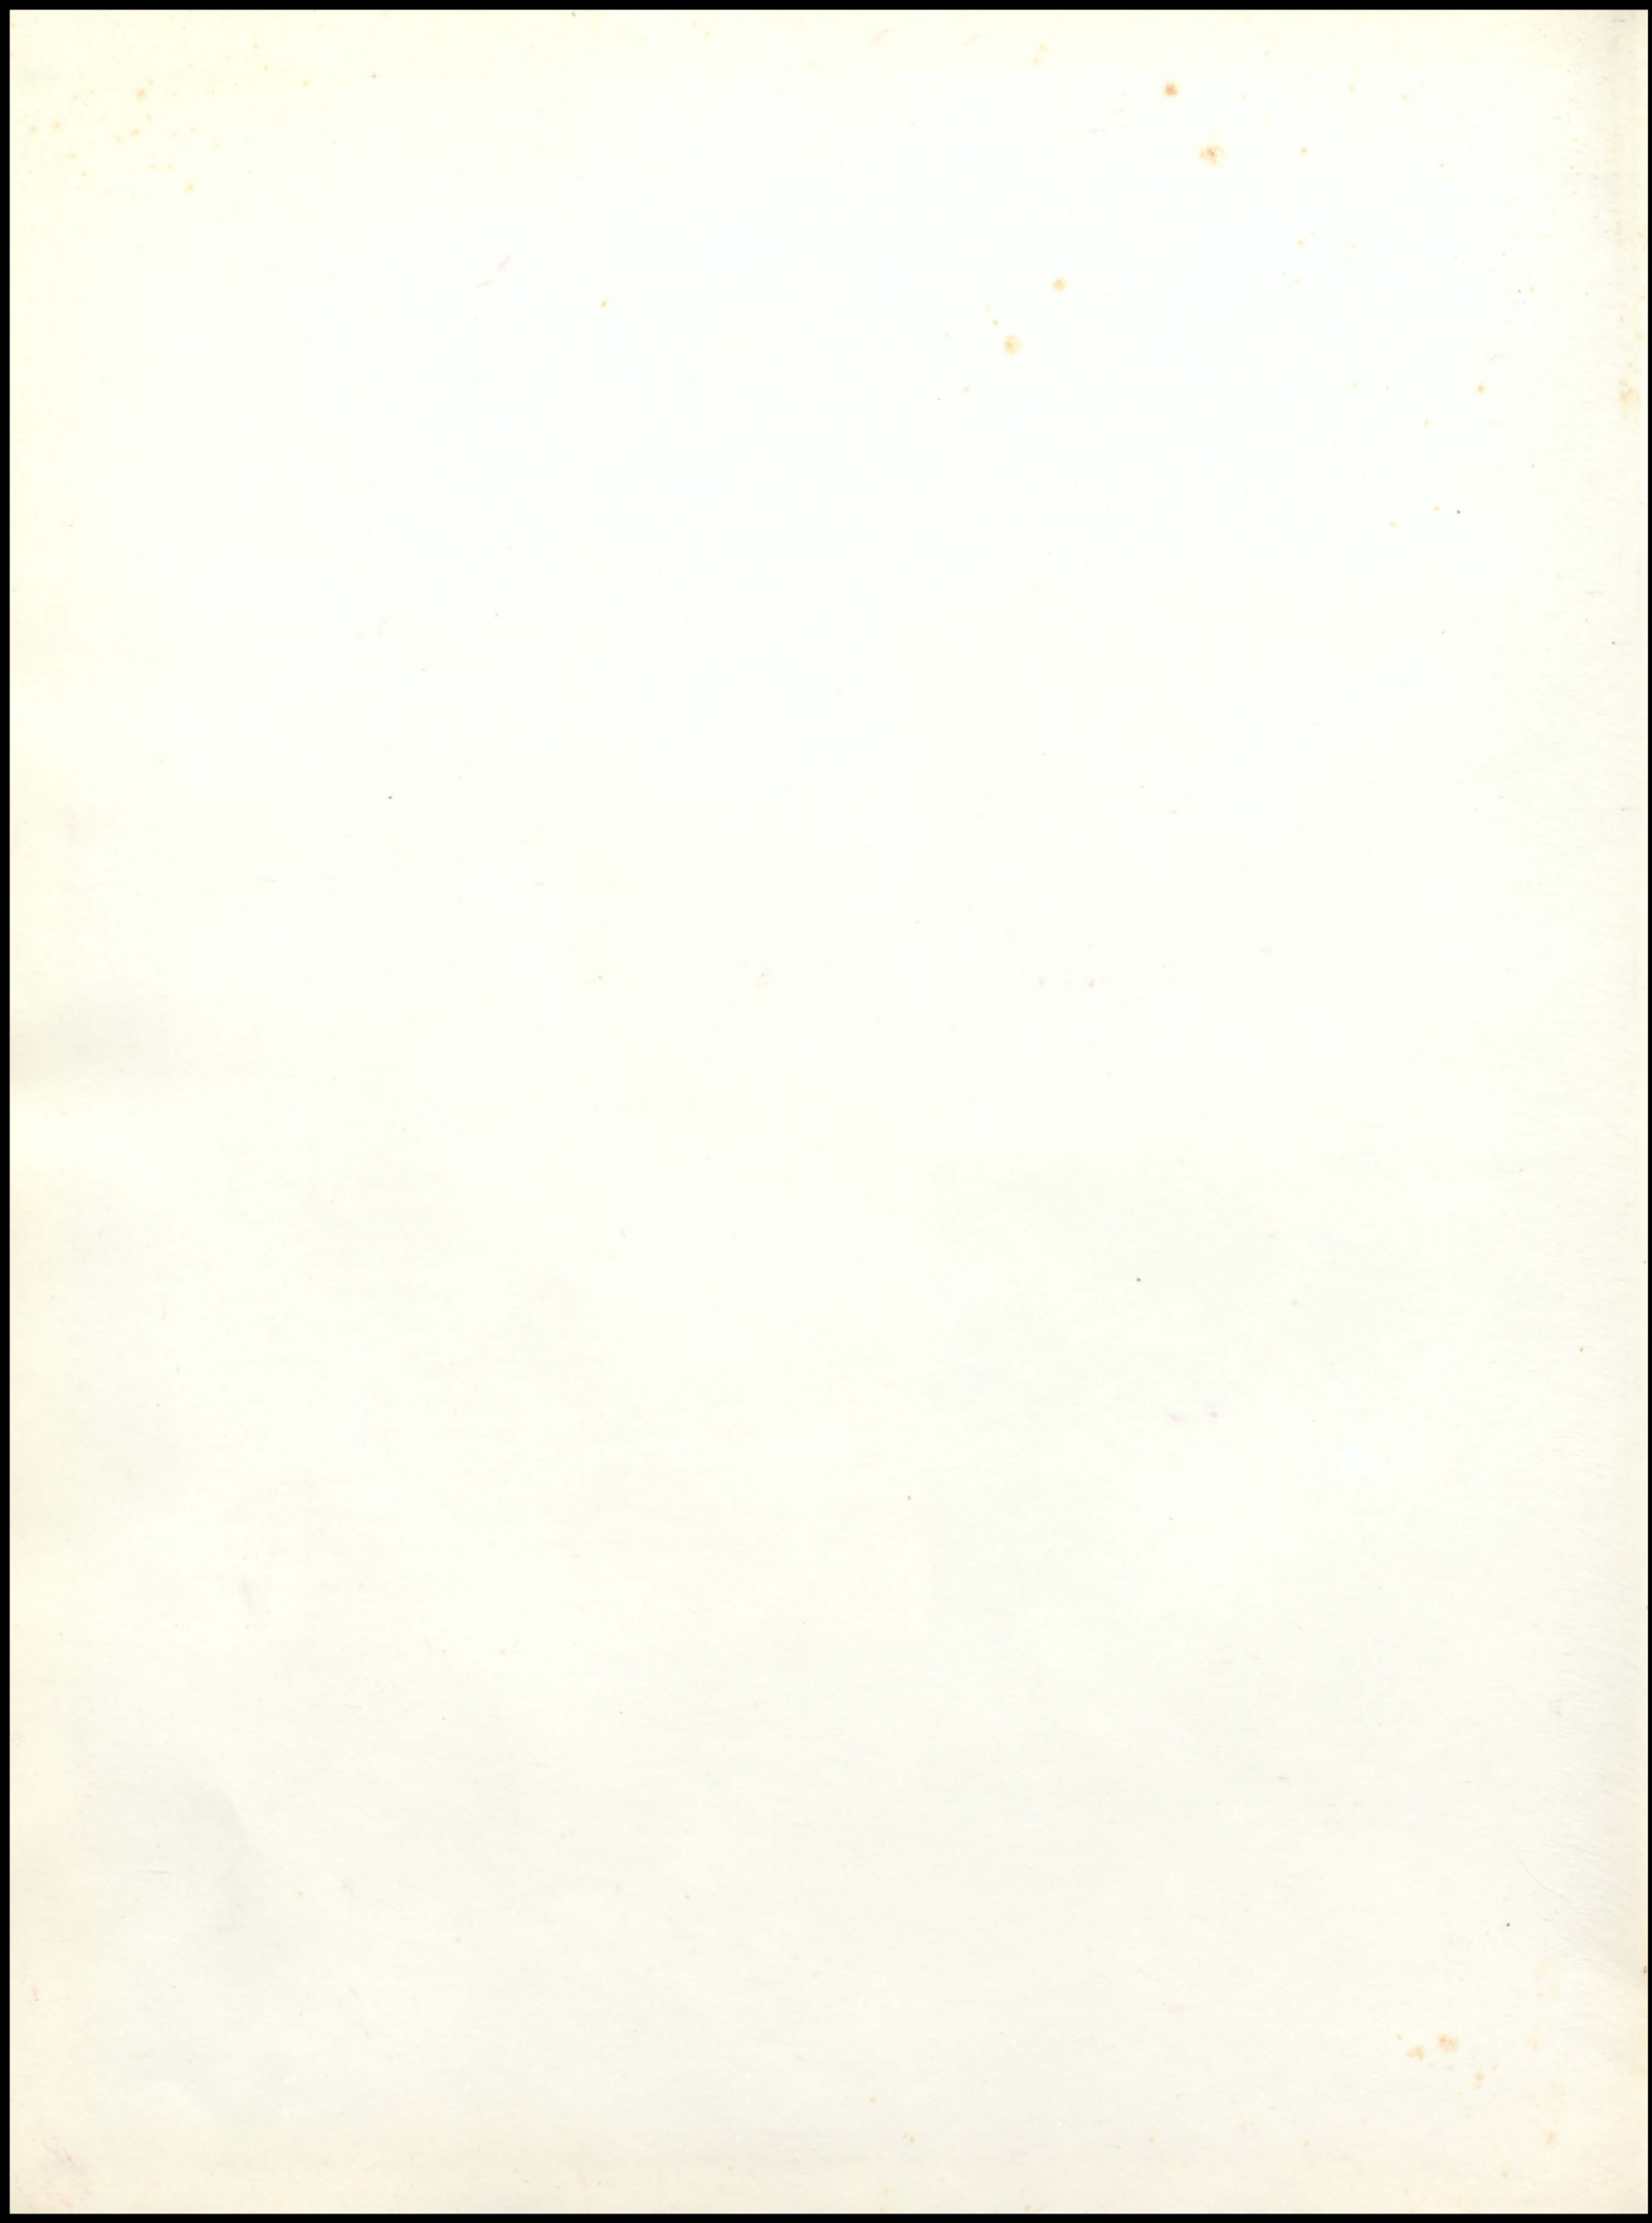

Back on earth, a war raged on in Asia, while in Paris diplomats argued protocol. Children starved to death in Biafra. Arabs and Jews fired upon each other in the Biblical lands of the Middle East. Russia occupied Czechoslovakia, while condemning United States "aggression".

In the U.S., most people enjoyed a period of unparalleled prosperity, while a segment of the population remained in poverty. It was a year of Black militancy, of student militancy, and of a widening breach between rich and poor, young and old.

The Class of 1969 of North Haven High School is about to graduate. We look to the past with a mixture of sadness and joy, and to the future with the hope that, as we grow older, the world can be made just a little more livable.
