Class of '65

Sue O'Neill and Ken Gates

SEVENTH GRADE

In seventh grade, the Class of 1965 first got together at Village Street School. We were a group of strangers, but after a month or two we began to make friends.

We were the only class at Village that year and we felt almost like senior high students. We had dancing in the gym after school, and even football teams.

Our class dance, entitled Seventh Sea, was held in at the high gym, decorated with sea-nets and octopi. We all had a wonderful time.

Our next major activity was an operetta, "The Mikado". Mrs. Bailey, our music teacher, handled the production, and the Class of '65 did quite well!

After gruelling competition for parts, Diane Winsco, Karen DeVita, Jim Ackerman, Joanne Hayes, and Ed Nelbach were chosen to be our singers and actors. They made their own wigs, and rented or made Japanese costumes.

As we neared the end of 7th grade, we were no longer the little elementary-school kids from 4 different schools, but one group of almost-high-school students, ready and anxious to move on to the new Junior High.

EIGHTH GRADE

In September of 1960, as 8th graders, we tromped the halls of the brand new Junior High, trying to find the rooms we were assigned to. We acquired lockers, a new privilege, and set out to fill them with books. We liked the new school, but we had a lot of responsibilities now. We had homework almost every night, and the job of working for the Class of '65.

On February 17, we had our first big dance in the school, "Rocking on Cloud 8". Everything turned out surprisingly well, as stars floated down from clouds of cotton. Leaving the dance at the bewitching hour of 11:00, we young socialities bid farewell to our friends and went home to dream of the wonderful evening we had enjoyed.

Soon we were looking forward to that gorgeous day when we would become freshmen! We waited eagerly for the courtyards, but were dreadfully dissatisfied to find that when the last day came, the courtyard doors were locked. Oh, well, we figured, there's always next year!

NINTH GRADE

The fall of '61 came and we finally got those courtyards! But remember all the threats to take them away?

Girls' intramural baseball—the R.R.S.'s (Ridge Road?), the Existentialists, the Alley-Oops—brought enjoyment to many 9th graders. Our boys' teams were great, as football, basketball and baseball games attracted many spirited fans.

Hawaiian Paradise, our final dance at the Junior High, was an evening filled with happy memories. Remember the poor waiters who had to jump at our commands to bring cookies and cake?

As the end of the year came, we knew we'd be leaving the Junior High for N.H.H.S., and we were a little sad to leave our position as the oldest class and become the sophomores.

TENTH GRADE

We entered the high school in '62, with Tony Tondalo as our President, Ken Gates as Vice-President, Sandy Cistulli as Treasurer and Beth Putnam as Secretary.

From the bread-lines of the Junior High to the prosperous maturity of high school.

History

Pat Tallon, Carolyn Cognata, Cheryl Collins, and Cathy Tully sit one out at "7th Sea."

It was a confused year for most of us. With no class party, the only big event was Fantasy in Frost. The class dance was enjoyed by those who attended, but very few of us were there. The name proved appropriate since it snowed 6 inches!

All in all, the tenth grade was a lot of fun and confusion in a new school, and a lot of getting used to the responsibilities of being senior high students.

ELEVENTH GRADE

At last the fall of '63 came, relieving us of our "lowly sophomore" status. Our enthusiastic officers were President, Tom Leahy, Vice-President, Paul Sartini, Secretary, Doris Mansfield, and Treasurer, Pat Matheson. Our advisors were Mr. DeLucia and Miss Lee.

After several weeks of anxious waiting, Panikoff came through again! We received our class rings, and came one step closer to that senior year.

Meanwhile, the Class of '65 went all out in courtyard capers. Several artistic members of the class painted maroon and white "1965" on the seniors' hallowed ground.

On October 22, we had our first class party. We thoroughly enjoyed ourselves, and left the dance proclaiming the greatness of '65.

After Christmas vacation, we made plans for our Junior Prom. Pat Parrella and Ken Gates were co-chairmen, aided by Karen Klaiber on Decorations; Beth Culler, on Publicity; Pete Aiardo, Band; Karen Tiskus, Bids; Sue O'Neill, Refreshments; Al Pesticci, Clean-up; and Paul Sargent, King and Queen. After many weeks of preparation, the big night of April 11th finally arrived. We danced the night away to the beautiful music of Arnold Most. Ken Gates and Sue O'Neill were royalty for an evening, in a magnificent ballroom dominated by the revolving "Carousel". We left the prom at midnight for 3 more hours of fun at St. Theresa's Church. The next morning, we were all up bright and early to picnic at the beach.

As the class of '64 graduated, many juniors served on the Honor Guard or as ushers. The next day, June 19, we finally became seniors! We took possession of the courtyard, and left for the summer, looking forward to a great senior year.

TWELFTH GRADE

In the fall of '64 we came back to N.H.H.S. ready for our senior year. Our officers were Ken Gates, President; Harry DeBenedet, Vice-President; Doris Mansfield, Secretary; and Pat Matheson, Treasurer. Miss Lee and Mr. De Lucia served as advisors again.

After six weeks of nightly rehearsals (Remember the hootenanny in the teachers' lounge?), we successfully performed our class play, "The Time of Your Life", on November 20 and 21. Many controversies raged over the censoring of the play, but it served its dual pupose of raising money and giving enjoyment.

Then came our first senior class party, on December 9. The rollicking fun we all in our old sloppy clothes made us eager for the next party, in April, which turned out just as well.

The unforgettable Senior Prom on May 22 was the Class of 1965's last formal gathering. Everyone had a wonderful time, and continued the fun the next morning at the beach.

After the prom, we had only to wait for our yearbooks. Finally the last hectic week arrived. Yearbooks, the Teachers' Reception, Awards Night passed, and finally came Graduation.

The end of our senior year was only the beginning of new lives for us at college or in new careers.

As we waltz on through life we will always carry with us "Mem'ries of North Haven High."

NEIL MITCHILL

EDITORS-IN-CHIEF

A lot of work goes into turning 200 sheets of dummy paper into a yearbook. This year the staffs really dug in and helped with every phase of the book. Mr. Perrone and Mrs. Olson, our advisors, helped considerably in checking copy and galleys—(their red pens correcting every other word). The lay-outs were done, for the most part, by the staffs. Jane Cozzolino and Lucille LaMonaca did a terrific job on the Clubs and Activities section, which, next to the senior section, is the largest and hardest portion of the book. Marilyn Cestaro has set a new record (according to the Telephone Company). She has dialed 777-5596 (Jay Storm's) 4,356,243 times this year. Pat Matheson has worn out "First initial and last name please" and "How do you spell that?" Bruce Cashman and Barry Sinoway racked their brains every afternoon thinking of witty words to put under a mud-spattered football player, while Bill Scrivener was careful not to let the sliding shortstop slide off the lay-out. Phil Lendroth worked very hard on his Swim Team write-up, being infinitely gentle with their record. That pioneer in basketball lay-outs—Gil Lewis, worked with Chris Dirks and Barby Endel, to come out with an extra-long format to allow for lay-up shots. "Make hay while the sun shines," and "A penny saved is a penny earned" were the sounds from the Biography Staff—trying very hard to find a person to fit their latest find in quotations. Beth Culler and Karen Tiskus worked week-ends and after school to get the biographies ready for the first deadline. Doris Mansfield and her staff had terrific memories, coming up with an interesting history of our class. Judy Reilly really did a tremendous job on Girl's Sports, along with Barbara Tomczak ("Will you contribute 25¢ for the "To Us From Us" picture?"). Sue Forand, Paul Sargent and Ken Gates worked diligently to get enough money up to pay for this "magnum opus." They did the whole Ad Section and supervised the sales of Boosters and Ads. The Proof Reading editors were the detectives of this outfit, and found mistakes we never thought we made. The Typing Staff was really the gem of this ocean of copy. Rowlyn Kopf, Cookie Garbero, Chris Kaiser and a whole bunch of helpers typed practically every word in this book. (I think they were trying to keep Neil and me away from the typewriters*#%.) While writing this we've had a chance to think about all that's happened with this book, and we've come to a few conclusions. 1. It really wasn't as bad as we thought, and 2. The SACHEM and '65 have an awful lot of friends.

Clubs and Activities

STUDENT COUNCIL

This year the Student Council discussed the establishment of an honor roll and a student court at N.H.H.S. The council business was presented to the students through a representative in each history class. As usual the council sponsored the annual Harvest Hop along with their autumn sock hop. Although the cafeteria program failed because of lack of co-operation from the students, the council continually attempted to improve relations between the student body and administration and faculty. Besides formulating school policy, the council sends representatives to all Housatonic meetings throughout the year.

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS

Standing: M. Nichols, Allan Taylor, Tom Leahy, B. Krzeminski, Bill Thompson.

THE TORCH

The staff of The Torch has worked to make an organ of student expression and to keep the student body aware of what is going on around the school. Interesting articles which have appeared in the Torch range from trenchant play reviews to an exclusive interview with Floyd Little, Connecticut's All-American.

TORCH MEMBERS

LITERARY MAGAZINE

With the full and enthusiastic co-operation of creative writing students, this year's literary magazine, entitled Water and Dust, has achieved great popularity among the members of the student body and faculty. The magazine consists of poems, sketches, and short stories. Although the creative writing is chiefly done by students, there has also been excellent contributions from some of the teachers. This student teacher co-operation has helped to make this year's magazine a delightful literary achievement.

LITERARY MAGAZINE EDITORS

GIRLS' TENNIS CLUB

The Girls' Tennis Club, "coached" by Mrs. Miller, was a new addition to the extra-curricular activities at North Haven. The plans for the club were to divide the girls into groups according to their abilities, help develop more advanced skills, and then ultimately stage an intra-mural tournament. Another goal of the club was to eventually hold mixed double matches with the Boys' Tennis Club.

BOYS' TENNIS CLUB

The Boys' Tennis Club, under the direction of Mr. Church and Mr. Mercuri, had its debut at N.H.S. this year. Although it was too early to hold real intra-mural tournaments, a "ladder" was established to create competitive spirit. The ultimate aim of the club is to have a tennis team representing our school.

CHESS CLUB

The Chess Club is not an organization created to teach students how to play chess, but it is made up of students who have a knowledge of the game and who want to match skill with players from other schools. The club uses is allocated funds to subscribe to the Chess Review, a monthly magazine which is of interest to all members.

STUDENT FORUM OFFICERS

George Cronk, President; Mark Nichols, Vice-President.

ART CLUB OFFICERS

John Anzel, President; Marie Candalora, Secretary; Stuart Mackellar, Vice-President.

ART CLUB

The Art Club is composed of students whose interest in art is sincere. The members are able to work on paintings, sculptures and numerous other forms of art. The members also help in several of the schools dramatic productions by painting and building the sets. The Art Club's most impressive display of its members' talent comes on Art Night. Here the art students exhibit their best work.

A.F.S. OFFICERS

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

The American Field Service is under the leadership of Miss Nancy Glidden. Although the A.F.S. did not bring a student over to North Haven, it plans to do so next year. The purpose of the club is to introduce a foreign student to an American community. It has been working full force on fund-raising projects—such as the girl's football game—so a student can be brought to North Haven next year.

RADIO CLUB

RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club, under the guidance of Mr. Mercuri, is organized to help further the knowledge of its members. These boys get the chance to do advance work in the field of electronics. The club opens new fields of exploration which its members would not otherwise come in contact with.

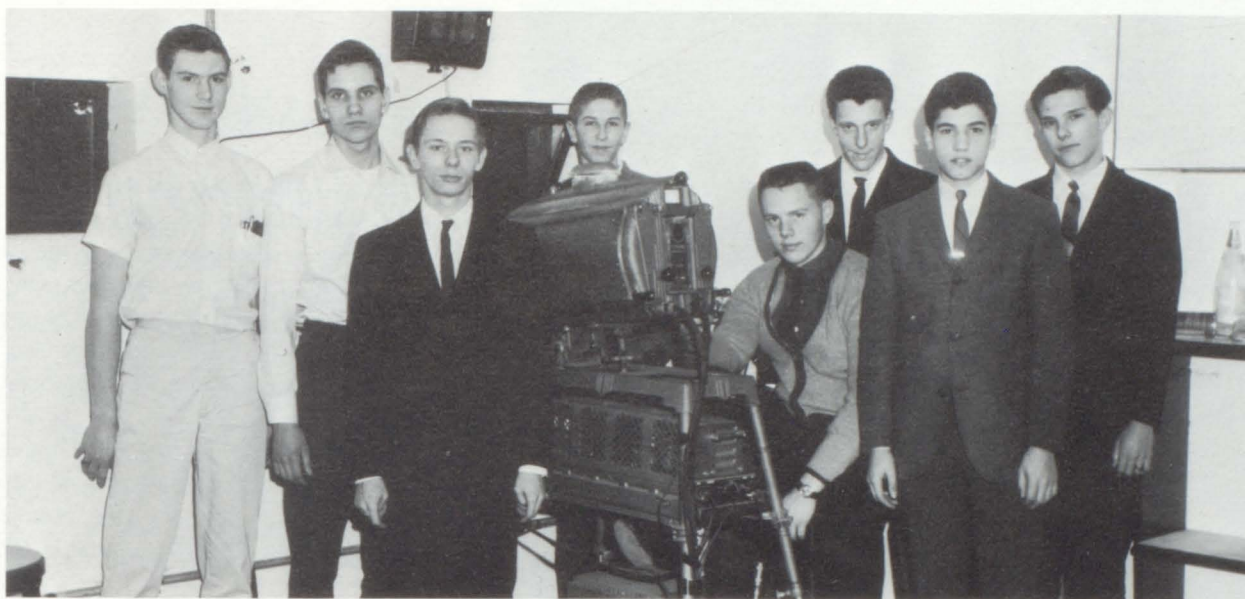

SCIENCE CLUB

The students in the Science Club develop their interest in science at an informal level. Meeting several times each month, the members engage in individual and group projects. Occasionally there are films, lectures and field trips. The most important function of the Science Club is the annual Science Fair. At the Science Fair, Club members and students display science projects. The projects are judged by science teachers and prizes are awarded in the spring.

THE A. V. CLUB

Bob Hatch, Don Jacobs, John Martus, President; Frank Mursko, Dudley Shepard, Secretary; Vinnie Meyers, Treasurer; Don Gray, Tony Zammataro.

THE A. V. CLUB

The Audio-Visual Club has been of great help during the school year. Its members have made available to the faculty and students the equipment that was needed in the education programs. The club has also taken care of all programs that concern the auditorium projection equipment. The club members instruct others in the use of the audio-visual facilities as well as repairing and delivering equipment. The club is under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Wright.

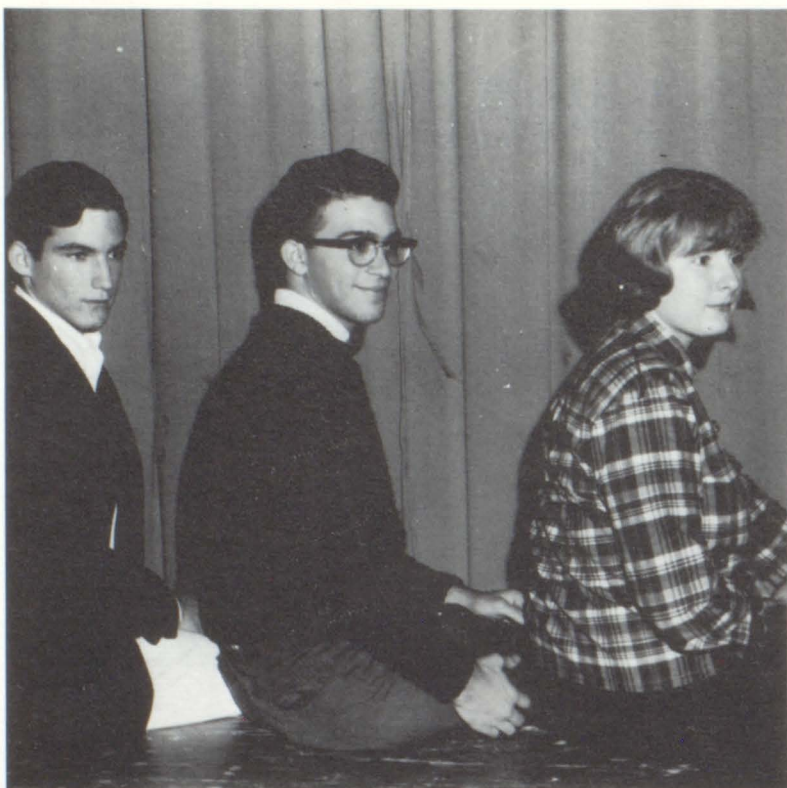

LIGHTING CLUB

Under the competent direction of Mr. Wright, the Lighting Club has been of great assistance to all projects requiring lighting or sound effects. The six boys in the club were trained to safely and efficiently operate the lighting equipment. They have done an excellent job to improve the stage productions.

DRAMA CLUB

The Drama Club, under the direction of Miss Malard and Mr. Simens, provides students with the opportunity to gain experience in the various aspects of drama, such as costumes, make-up, stage crew, lighting and directing. The goal of the club is the production of one play each year for two evening performances. Approximately five months of work goes into this production, beginning with tryouts in the fall. Diligent rehearsing and other preparations follow throughout the winter. This year the club presented a production of Rebel Without a Cause at the end of February.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB

The Shakespeare Club, under the supervision of Mr. Church is now in its third year. The aim of the club is to increase the students' understanding and enjoyment of Shakespeare's works. The members of the club produce two plays each year, one in the fall and one in the spring. This year's selections were Othello and As You Like It. Besides the presentations of plays, the students also attend professional productions of Shakespeare's works. In the fall of this year the members of the club and other interested students attended a presentation of Othello in New York.

PEP CLUB

The 1,000,000 screaming girls who make up the Pep Club are loudly in evidence at every football and basketball game. The club also sells shakers to finance its activities such as making posters and painting the scoreboard. This year, for the first time, the girls held a social with pep clubs from other schools.

PEP CLUB OFFICERS

CAMPUS STORE

The girls who worked in the Campus Store each morning and afternoon were in for more than their usual amount of work this year. Following a new policy issued by the administration, all financial business, including the buying of yearbooks, activity tickets and away-game bus tickets, was carried on at the Campus Store. As a result rush-hour was twice as busy, and the hard-working girls should be given credit for a fine job.

BOOK SHOP

The Book Shop, which has been in existence for 3 years, is still a great aid to all students. It offers a wide selection of paper back books at reasonable prices. The shop is run by its small but competent membership, which is assisted by Mr. Church, both before and after school.

THE LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club, which is under the direction of Miss Casper, affords to its members the opportunity to study the culture and civilization of the ancient Romans or Greeks. This year the Latin Club's emphasis will be on Greece. The club plans to have a Greek Christmas Tea, a trip to the Metropolitan Museum, and the usual Latin Club banquet in the spring.

LATIN CLUB OFFICERS

FRENCH CLUB OFFICERS

THE FRENCH CLUB

The French Club, directed by Miss Rebecca Satterlee, gives interested French students an opportunity to become better acquainted with French culture and customs. Beside the popular annual Christmas party, the club participates in such activities as the viewing of foreign films and the planning of French dinners, held in the homes of club members.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club, under the direction of Mr. Burns, is organized for the purpose of enabling students to pursue their interest in the Spanish language and culture. The members of the club held their annual Christmas party, following the Spanish traditions as closely as possible. The club also visited the Spanish pavillion at the New York World's Fair.

SPANISH CLUB OFFICERS

Ronnalie Gonschreck, Secretary-Treasurer; Nadja Cardona, President; Pati Cardone, Vice-President.

SPANISH CLUB

LIBRARY CLUB

Seated: Dolores Kolterman, Barb Rudzinski, Laura Salzillo, Sandy Hill. Standing: Camille Malavasi, Barbara Spetland, George Dayton, Linda Belanger, Paula Mastrianni.

THE LIBRARY CLUB

The Library Club assists in library routines, such as checking, processing and shelving books and magazines. The club also prepares displays of books and bulletin boards.

31-A CLUB

In its second year of existence, the 31-A Club has been of great help to the faculty. The members sort out books left in Room 31-A, and often act as detectives tracking down books for the English Department. In fact the 31-A Club is the F.B.I. of the English Department.

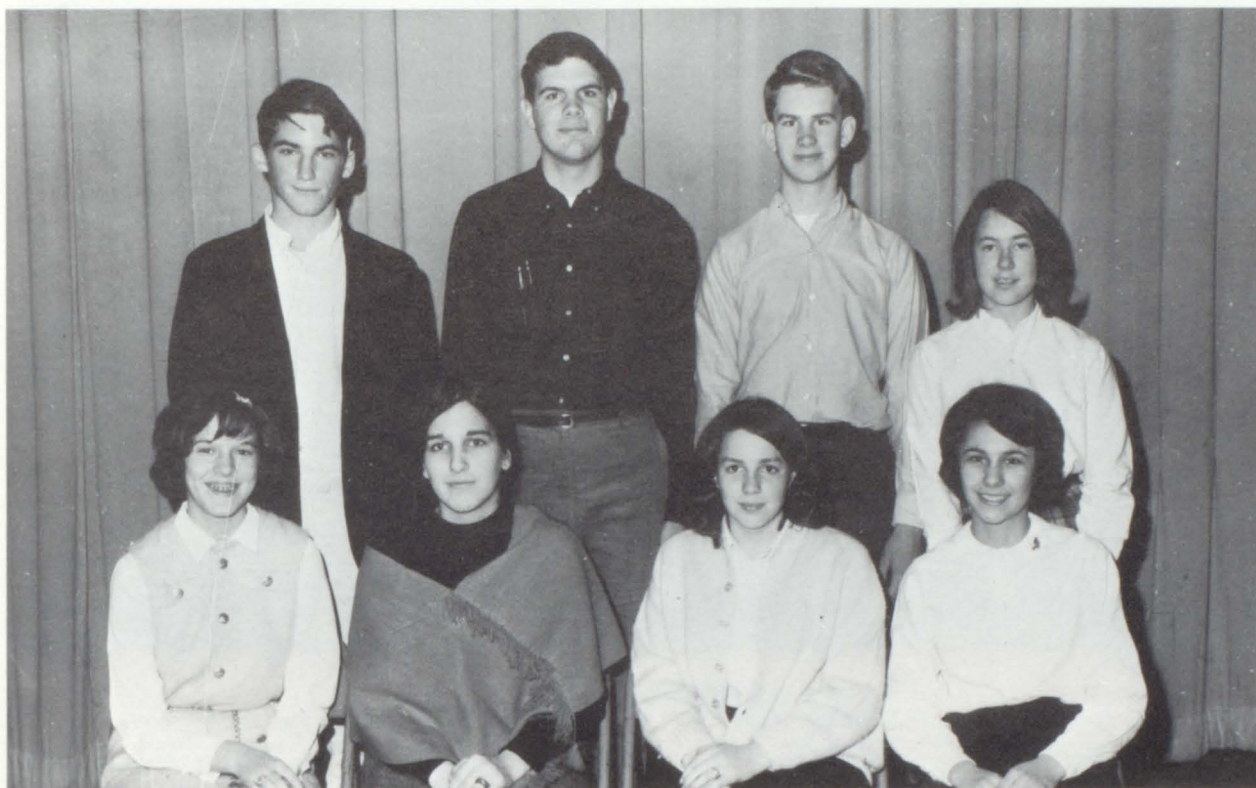

LIBRARY CLUB OFFICERS

Mrs. Titus, Advisor; Carol Long, Treasurer, Ronnie Gagnon, Secretary; Liz Russell, President; Mrs. Bearse, Advisor. Absent: Debby Hansen.

DEBATE CLUB OFFICERS

DEBATE CLUB

The Debate Club this year is larger than it has ever been before. Since most of the members are underclassmen, it appears likely that both the club's size and its record of victories will continue to grow. This year, advised by Mr. Samberg and Mr. Dodds, the club has participated in model congresses and debating tournaments all over the state. For the entire year, the issue of debate has been whether or not nuclear weapons should be controlled by an international organization. Through debating, members have learned a great deal about this extremely important question.

CONCERT CHOIR

THE CHORUS

The Chorus, which totals close to 90 members, is organized for the purpose of choral singing. Mr. Donald Parsons directs the singers in sessions during school and some members after school. Also under his direction are the Concert Choirs, Double Quartet, the all state winner, and the Danbury Festival Group. The Chorus performed at the Christmas Concert, a Spring Concert, and our Assembly programs. They also toured the elementary schools and gave a concert at Woolsey Hall, May 15.

FOOTBALL 1964

BRIAN TITUS and MIKE LANDINO
Co-Captains

1964 was an exciting season of football. The Indians finished first in the Housatonic League for the third straight year. North Haven ran up its unbeaten streak to 19 games, one of the longest ever compiled in the state, before finally losing to East Haven in a close game, 8-0. The team worked hard to achieve such a record and there were several memorable victories along the way. Derby held North Haven scoreless for the better part of four quarters before the Indians broke loose for two quick scores and a 13-6 triumph. Again held scoreless for most of the game, the Indians finally scored against Shelton and Jim Bradanini's conversion gave North Haven its slim margin of victory, 7-6. The key to North Haven's success lay in its strong defense. The Indians allowed only 32 points all year and never gave up more than one touchdown in any one game. Three times they held their opponents scoreless.

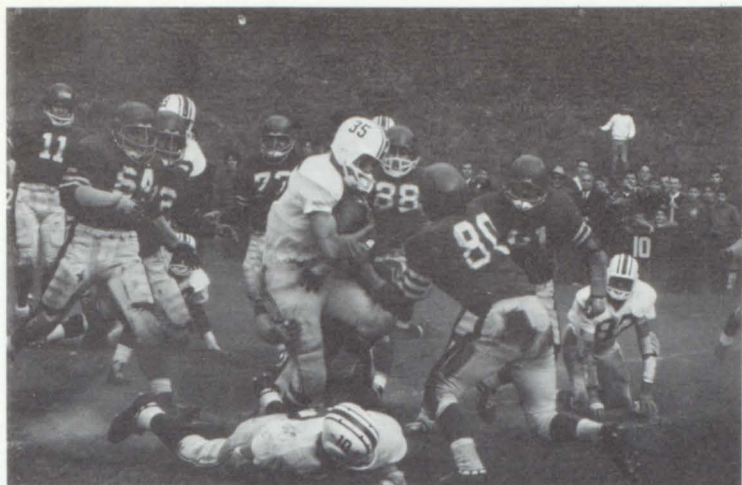

Because of their outstanding play, Brian Titus and Tom Marone were selected to be on the All-Housatonic League Team. Brian was also presented with the Savitt Award for outstanding play. Coaches Vanacore, DeMayo and Gilbride must be commended for an outstanding coaching job during this fine season.

Sharp shooting and aggressive rebounding against taller opponents helped North Haven to a fine year. The Indians were again in the thick of the fight for first place right up until the end of the season. The season had its "firsts," including our first victory ever over Hamden 62-52, and our first twin-win over East Haven, 67-65 and 59-52. Co-captain Larry Townsend, an All-Housatonic selection last year, held his own in the battle under the boards. Al McVay led the league with an average of 20 points a game. With the season completed, the team had compiled the fine record of 13 wins and 6 losses.
